Subject: Water pits dumping issue

Hello Mr. Hossein,

I am a board member of Citizen's Coalition for a Safe Community based out of Culver City California. Near the Inglewood Oil Fields. Unfortunately I was not able to attend the February 7th water boards meeting.

I am not sure if my concerns were covered.

I do know that there is no safe way to Frack. You, your family, myself, and all humans cannot live without clean water. Any open pits, buried Frack waste, reinjection, or dumping underground, or near clean water resources? Is a bad idea. A risk of further contamination of clean; water, soil and air.

Despite the heavy rains. Our clean water resources are finite. There is no safe way to Frack or get rid of Frack waste.

Sincerely,

Aura Walker, MA, CHt
